A MAGNIFICENT STRUCTURE.

The New Office Building of Messrs. Wharton & McAlister.

The travelling public certainly missed a good thing when the agents for the Southern Loan and Trust Company decided to carry out their original plans and not open the Hotel Normandie in the company's elegant new building on East Market street. No commercial hotel in the state can give its guests such nice rooms as are found in this building, nor is any commercial hostelry in North Carolina supplied with all the modern conveniences with which this building is fitted.

But the office rent-rs of Greensboro are decidedly the gainers in the change of the good plans of Wharton & McAlister. The new building is now nearly completed and the interior already presents an appearance that surpasses in elegance anything that the people of Greensboro had dreamed of.

Through the courtesy of Mr. McAlister, a Telegram reporter was this morning shown through the entire building, from the handsome oak phone box, in Wharton & McAlister's handsome office, to the light shaft in the roof. Wharton & McAlister's main office is the largest room in the building, which is on the right on first floor. Some of the furniture has already been placed and the office bids fair to be one of the most finely furnished in the state. The counter is of highly polished oak, with a light, artistic iron railing around the top.

Between the main office and Mr. McAlister's private office, adjoining which is a consulting room, is the large vault, one of the best in the state. It is 14-16 feet, nicely finished, and is better lighted than the average business man's office.

But we must only briefly mention some of the many points of excellence about the building. One room on the second floor will be furnished, gratis, by the company, for a lawyers' library, only the books to be provided by those who have access to the room.

On the third floor one of the largest and most convenient rooms will be fitted up for a reading room for the benefit of the occupants of the building.

Handsomely furnished toilet rooms for gentlemen will be on second, fourth and fifth floors, and one for ladies on third floor. On fourth and fifth floors a large bath room, with the latest fixtures, are being put in.

The entire building will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity, while it will also be equipped with fire escapes at each end and the most approved passenger elevator. The elevator will run from 6 o'clock in the morning till 12 at night. Fire hose, attached to standpipes, is to be put in on every floor or this, with a night-watchman, who will be on duty from sunset until sunrise, will provide ample protection from fire.

The rooms on fourth and fifth floors will be rented as bachelor apartments for young men, those on first, second and third floors will be retained for offices.

Every man, woman and child would find a visit to the new structure pleasant and interesting and will feel proud of the building when they come away. The sign "Not a far away here" is still posted in conspicuous places, but when the finishing touches have been put on, visitors will no doubt be welcomed for a tour of inspection.

Suggestions to Churches.
A prominent church man has suggested that the churches of the city join hands and purchase a handsome cabinet for church notices, to take the place of those which are now posted in the post office. An attractive cabinet, with spaces for every church in the city, could be purchased at a very small cost to each congregation, and would attract the attention of every one, stranger or citizen, who visits the post office. Uncle Sam will no doubt furnish the space gladly, and we believe the gentleman's suggestion a good one. Some one start the ball.

COURT MARTIAL GOES ON

Labori Handles His Client's Case Skillfully.

GENERAL GONSE ON THE STAND.

He Wins Under the Cross-Questioning of the Defense and Answers Questions Evasively.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Rennes, August 23—Labori looked much stronger this morning. M. de Brieval testified that he met Dreyfus at a dinner party at the house of M. Bodson, in Paris, in 1886. Bodson told him he knew enough about Dreyfus to get him (Dreyfus) kicked out of the army.

Labori pulverized Brieval by showing him that he knew nothing that could be substantiated by evidence.

LABORI PUZZLES GONSE.

Rennes, August 23—Captain Lerond defended Esterhazy, saying it was impossible for him to know about the hydraulic brake mentioned in the bordereau. He then related how Picquart assigned him to watch Esterhazy. He made insinuations against Picquart which that officer repudiated and disputed several times. Esterhazy's evidence before the court of cassation was read. Letters of Esterhazy were read stating that he understood General Faure's intervention following the receipt of these letters led to Picquart's being sent to Tunis. General Gonse denied the statements of Esterhazy relating to his general staff. Labori asked Gonse what in his eyes could excuse the villainous acts taken to apprise Esterhazy of his danger from Picquart's investigations. Gonse refused to admit that improper means had been taken. When asked if he would accept the responsibility of the acts of de Clam, Gonse answered evasively.

THE MILLENNIUM'S APPROACH

Terrifies the Uneducated Classes in Southern Russia.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

St. Petersburg, August 23—Reports from southern Russia say that the current rumor of the approaching end of the world is causing a panic among the uneducated classes. Workmen are leaving Kharkov in large numbers, wishing to spend what they consider the last days in their village homes. Factory owners have asked the police to stop the emigration in order to prevent ruin to business.

SENATOR JAMES K. JONES

Is in Good Health and Will Return the First of October.

TEXAS IS FOR FREE SILVER.

But in Southwest Texas the Protection Sentiment Is Strong Among the Sheep Raisers.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, August 23—A private letter was received in this city the other day from Senator Jones, of Arkansas. When the letter was written, the senator was at Glasgow, Scotland, and in it he stated that he is well, enjoying good health, and will be back in the United States about the first of October. This effectively dispels the reports which have been published in the papers to the effect that the condition of Senator Jones is alarming to his friends. It is said among the friends of Senator Jones here that there is no doubt felt but that he will be able by next year to resume his active duties as chairman of the national democratic committee, and all speculation as to his retirement from the committee on account of ill health is set aside by those who know the Senator.

In the letter referred to received in this city, Senator Jones states that he is satisfied with the present outlook for the democratic party. The recent action of the national committee at its meeting in Chicago meets with the approval of the senator. He says that so far as he can see judge at so great a distance from home, the outlook for the success of the democratic party next year is very favorable.

It has been stated by friends of Senator Jones here that he has been kept fully informed as to the state of political affairs in this country, and that he has kept in close touch with political while abroad. As stated heretofore, it is not thought that Senator Jones will take any active participation in the state campaigns this year. It has been rumored here that if he returns in season he might be invited to take the stump for Goebel in Kentucky, but the belief is that the senator will make very few speeches in any of the state campaigns this fall.

Mr. O. P. Warren, of Texas, is at the Metropolitan hotel for a few days. In conversation he stated that he resided in Jefferson county, in the southern portion of the state. The principal crop there, he says, is rice, which during the past few years has been growing in importance. Sugar and tobacco, he says, are also good paying crops. He says that all of these articles are protected, although the majority of the voters in that section of the state are free traders. Mr. Warren says it is his opinion that during the next few years there will be a tremendous growth in the "protective" sentiment of southeastern Texas. He says in southwest Texas there has been a strong protective sentiment for years, as the people are mostly engaged in sheep raising, and that they have found out that sheep are worth a good deal more under the protective system than under the Wilson bill.

Mr. Warren says that the state is for free silver, and that there is no doubt Bryan will get the state's delegation in the next national convention.

A letter was received in this city Monday from Governor Sayers acknowledging the receipt of a draft for $1,000, a portion of the money contributed by citizens of Washington for the relief of the victims of the Texas floods. The governor says the situation in Texas has now reached a stage where further funds will not be needed and he asks that further efforts in this line be suspended. The governor thanks the citizens of the national capital in his letter for their generosity.

It is likely that the money now remaining in the hands of the Texas relief committee will be used for the relief of the people of Porto Rico.

Today morning that nothing is known of a protest said to have been sent from Jackson, Miss., by the negro republicans protesting against the appointment of white republicans to federal offices. No protest had been received up to yesterday so far as could be learned.

It is said that the republicans may not nominate any legislative tickets in Virginia. The democracy is divided over the senatorial succession and the republican leaders are of the opinion that more can be gained by letting them settle their troubles without outside aid. At most the republicans could not hope to elect more than three or four members of the legislature.

Special service has been discontinued at Salemburg, Sampson county, North Carolina, from Owenville to take effect October 1st.

Star service has been discontinued in North Carolina from Webster to Cashiers; Speedwell to Cullowhee, and from Speedwell to Highlands.

The comptroller of the currency has approved of the Merchants National Bank and the Mechanics National Bank, of Philadelphia, as reserve agents for the Merchants and Farmers National Bank, of Charlotte, North Carolina.

100,000 DESTITUTE.

The List of Homeless Porto Ricans not Diminished.

Washington, August 23—In a dispatch to the war department General Davis places the number of killed in Porto Rico at 1,000 and reiterates his estimate of 100,000 destitute. "Press reports that Porto Ricans refused to discharge relief supplies without double pay are untrue," says General Davis. "The McPherson arrived Sunday afternoon and the dock hands refused to work on Sunday without customary Sunday pay. United States soldiers and a Porto Rican battalion volunteered to take their places, but the longshoremen returned to work when they learned the nature of the supplies on board and the unloading was completed by them. Some refused any pay whatever. Their original strike was due to misapprehension. Stories that laborers in the interior refused to work because they are to be fed by the government is principally sensational talk and hysteria."

"The cargo of the McPherson has been forwarded to distributing centers and part was issued yesterday evening. In a few limited areas the coffee is half safe, remaining areas the crop is almost totally ruined and the trees so injured that next year's crop will not exceed 50 per cent average. Bananas furnished one half the food and sweet potatoes, beans, rice, corn and yams, all of which are grown here, supplied the other half to 50 per cent of the inhabitants. All the bananas, rice and corn are destroyed and half the potatoes."

INGERSOLL L. F. NO WILL.

His Personal Property Is Worth Ten Thousand Dollars.

Mrs. Ingersoll swears that she has made diligent search for the will of her husband, but that to the best of her knowledge and belief he died intestate. The value of his personal property is estimated by her to be about $10,000. At the time of his death he held no real property.

The heirs to the estate are Mrs. Ingersoll, the widow; Mrs. Eva R. I. Brown, wife of Walsworth H. Brown, and Miss Maude Ingersoll.

"GENERAL" OTIS.

In the operations against the Filipinos during the past several days, the Americans have lost several men. The number and the names of these dead soldiers, like the number and the names of the troops we have been losing all along, are known only to the war department, and perhaps to the families of the deceased. Such information would be intensely interesting to the people, who are paying the bills incurred by the war.

We notice in the dispatches this morning that the American newspaper correspondents at Manila are permitted to send only the most inadequate despatches generally, and that of the operations during the past few days General Otis himself, with all the pomp of Caesar, dictated the scant intelligence he wished the people to know, verbatim. And the no less ridiculous than disgusting fact is disclosed that the press censor has been supplied with stereotyped official phrases and adjectives magnifying the American victories and minimizing the resistance of the insurgents.

General Otis is becoming to be a more despicable functionary than Alger was before the people hounded him out of his high place. Otis is an incubus on the war movement, a serious hindrance to the end of the Philippine trouble. He is as incompetent as he is frivolous and disgusting, and is not qualified to govern a lot of children, much less the fine body of soldiers under his command. If he would pay more attention to the movement of the enemy and less to the color of the correspondents' dispatches, he would be eminently more bearable, at least.

The Greensboro correspondent of the Charlotte Observer writes that paper:

Speaking of the great amount of traffic through Greensboro, Superintendent O'Brien said today that the Southern ran through this place in one day sixty separate trains, of which 28 are passenger trains. And in spite of the fact that there are no railroad shops here, more than forty of the Southern's engines are daily cared for in Greensboro.

A LESSON FOR SOMEBODY.

Speaking of the death of Mrs. W. M. Matthews, an insane lady of Mecklenburg county, who set fire to her clothing and burned to death last Monday night, the Charlotte Observer well observes:

She has been insane and dangerous to herself and others for several months and application was made for her admission to the state hospital at Morganton. This had to be postponed because there was no room for her, and now she dies a shocking death by her own act. Whose fault is it? Certainly not that of her family; certainly not that of the hospital authorities, for they cannot in good conscience or in conformity to good public policy discharge one meritorious case to make room for another. It looks as if it were the fault of the legislators of North Carolina, who decline to provide the means for the care of the insane of the state.

A dispatch from Springfield, Chgo, dated August 22, says: "Two colored Springfield thieves were today surrounded and shot dead in a buggy by Urbana officers. The incident grew out of continuous thievery at Urbana. The negroes were William Wentzel and Samuel Is'ez. They had stolen some harness from Urbana and were escaping when overhauled by the officers." Here is a gold mine for somebody. Bring the families of Messrs. Wentzel and Is'ez down south, and exhibit them as families of martyrs. The barbarous killing of colored people up north for trivial offences is becoming frightfully common.

The friends of Dreyfus throughout the world—and they are legion—rejoice at the entrance into the arena of the bold and gallant Labori. He is the most powerful friend the accused has, and the enemies of justice and humanity quail before him. But Labori is in constant danger of assassination, and the world will be horrified—but not surprised—to hear any hour that the bomb, the ball or the stealthy knife has got in its work.

FRENCH JUSTICE.

A Chapter From the Trial of Captain Dreyfus.

Judge—Did you say your name was Alfred or Alphonse Dreyfus? Be careful how you reply.
Dreyfus—Alfred Dreyfus is my name.
Judge—Ah, ha! Why did you say "Alfred Dreyfus is my name" instead of "My name is Alfred Dreyfus?"
Dreyfus—Really, mon colonel, I don't know.

Judge—You hesitate. You look confused. I note the fact that you uncrossed your legs when I asked you this question. That is proof of an uneasy conscience. What have you to say?

Dreyfus—I can't.
Judge—He can't. This is a confession. He is guilty. (Sensation.)
Dreyfus—No, mon colonel, I am innocent.

Judge—If you are innocent, perhaps you will tell me where you were night before last at fifteen minutes past ten?

Dreyfus—I was in jail.
Judge—Where were you on January 11, 1896?

Dreyfus—I was in jail.
Judge—Where were you on the night of March 3, 1897?

Dreyfus—I was in jail.
Judge—Where were you when the Suburban was run in 1898?

Dreyfus—I was in jail.
Judge (triumphantly)—Always in jail, yet this cannibal claims to be innocent. Once more, where were you on the 29th of February, 1899?

Dreyfus—I was in jail.
Judge—Sacre bleu! You convict yourself. There was no 29th of February, 1899. We shall see. You wrote the bordereau.

Dreyfus—No, mon colonel; I am innocent.
Judge (sternly)—How long have you known William Patterson?

Dreyfus—I do not know Monsieur Patterson at all.
Judge—Are you not the man who struck him?

Dreyfus—I never heard of him.
Judge—He never heard of Billie Patterson, the man who was struck. He dissembles. Do you smoke cigarettes?

Dreyfus—Yes.
Judge—Is the tariff a tax?

Dreyfus—It is.
Judge—You are a traitor to France. France imposes a tariff and you say it is a tax. Have you ever felt like thirty cents?

Dreyfus—Yes, mon colonel. I feel like twenty-five cents now.
Judge—Do you still deny that you wrote "Curfew shall not ring to night?"

Dreyfus—I never denied it, because I never heard—
Judge—You see, he claims that he wrote "Curfew shall not ring to night."

Dreyfus—But, mon colonel, I know nothing about "Curfew." I do not claim—Judge—But you don't deny. Perhaps you also wrote "The Beautiful Snow."

Dreyfus—Really, mon colonel, you do not allow me to explain.
Judge—You see, he cannot explain. Do you use Pear's soap?

Dreyfus—I do not.
Judge—The reporters will observe that he does not use soap. Do you believe in the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 independent of any other nation on earth?

Dreyfus—I am afraid that—Judge—He is afraid to speak. He is opposed to sound money. Whom do you consider the greater military genius; Mercier or Esterhazy?

Dreyfus—I cannot say. Both of them, possibly.
Judge—Have you not been in correspondence with Jack Chinn and Deadhorse Jake since this trial began?

Dreyfus—I have not.
Judge—Do you deny that you received a cipher cablegram from Hinky Dink yesterday morning?

Dreyfus—I do.
Judge—You change color. Your guilt is now established. You can explain nothing. You claim the authorship of poems which were written by Mademoiselle Ella Wheeler. You are always in jail, and you can't prove an alibi on the 29th of February, 1899. It is therefore established that you communicated secret documents to the German government, and that you wrote the bordereau.

Great applause in court, mingled with the polite invitations to "conspuez" and "bas" everything and everybody, and followed by a few cheerful assassinations on the outside.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

CONDITIONS OF CROPS.

Cotton and Tobacco in North Carolina Injured by the Recent High Winds.

Washington, August 22.—The weather bureau's crop report contains the following:

While there has been an entire absence of rain over a large part of the country east of the Rocky Mountains and droughty conditions are quite extensively reported in New England, over much of the lower lake regions, Ohio and lower Missouri valleys, and west Gulf states, very heavy rains have fallen in the Pied River of the North valley, on the Virginia and North Carolina coast and over portions of the central Gulf states. Spring wheat harvest has been delayed in the Dakotas and Minnesota by heavy rains which have caused injury to sacked grain in the last named state.
Harvesting has also been interrupted by rains in Washington and Oregon.

Over the central and eastern portions of the cotton belt the condition of cotton continues practically the same as at the close of the previous week, rust and shelling being prevalent. All reports show that cotton is opening rapidly, picking being in progress in the extreme northern districts. In eastern North Carolina the crop was damaged by the high winds attending the late hurricane. Drought is proving very damaging to the crop in Oklahoma and Texas, but the weather conditions have been very favorable for picking, and while an average crop is not expected in Texas,
the quality of the staple is good.

In tobacco the crop is suffering from drought, but in other tobacco states the general outlook continues favorable. Some damage, however, has been caused by the high winds in North Carolina, and moist weather has been unfavorable for curing in Maryland.

tendent of the electric light plant."

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Robt. Boyd went to Reidsville at noon.
J. J. Hopkins left at noon for Pinehurst.
Howard B. Sterrett went to Reidsville at noon.
Notice the change of Howard Gardner's ad today.
Mrs. B. S. Phillips left at noon for Siler City to spend several days visiting relatives.
Will H. Matthews and George Crawford returned last evening from a four days' trip to Wilmington.
Hinkle Brothers advertise a clearance sale in their millinery department. Read their new ad.
Miss Lillie Watt Penn, of Reidsville, passed through the city at noon today returning home from Piedmont Springs.
Mr. and Mrs. A. Corbett, of Jackson, spent this morning at the Allen, returning home from the western part of the state.
C. E. Harrison, state agent for Deering harvesters, left at noon for Richmond to attend a meeting of the Deering Harvester Company's traveling men for this territory.
The subject of the lecture at Washington street church tonight will be "Religion, Liberty, and What the Baptists Had to Do With It." All invited, but members, especially the younger members, urged to be present.
We are glad to announce that Mr. E. R. Fishblade, who has been confined to his home for some time with sickness, is so far recovered that he was able to be at the store for a short while today. We hope for him a speedy recovery.
The big clothing firm of C. M. Vanstory & Co. has a new ad in the Telegram today that is worth your attention. They have, as always, a mammoth stock of goods to select from, and there is no trouble in securing a fit. Call and see them.
Rev. Mr. Bryan, of Pleasant Garden, preached at Muir's chapel last night to one of the largest congregations that has been in attendance since the meeting began. His discourse was on the subject of prayer, and is said to have been forcible and eloquent.
We call attention to the new ad of Lee's Practical Business College, of Charlotte. This is one of the best equipped colleges in the state which has for its aim preparation for a business career, and those anticipating taking such a course would do well to investigate it.
Rev. A. B. Crumpler, the noted sanctified evangelist, passed through Greensboro today going to his home in Sampson county to spend a week. He will begin a meeting at Walkertown on the 31st inst., at the close of which he will conduct a series of meetings in Winston.

Did Wesley Re'il?
Unless Wesley Smith can prove an immaculate character at his preliminary trial this afternoon there is likely to be an amusing trial at the court house this week. Wesley has been arrested on the charge of retailing, the arrest being made by Officer Jeffries last night. Wesley has secured a very able though retired attorney whose intention is to let Wesley tell his own argument to the jury. And the betting is two to one that the defendant will clear himself—unless the state has a clinched case.

Mr. Kaufmann has Returned.
On Saturday Kaufmann, the haberdasher, will add to his line a full stock of boys and youths' shoes both medium and fine grades, good serviceable shoes for school wear. Mr. Kaufmann has just returned from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, where he dived into all the latest and finest goods and selected a choice line for his store in Greensboro. The new goods are arriving daily. Watch his ad for announcements. His place is 36 South Elm street.

There are nearly two months yet in which your little girls can wear oxfords and sandals, and Thacker & Brockmann will sell you a pair at cost or less. Go and see them.

The city graded schools open Friday week, Sept. 1st. Your boys and girls will want school shoes, and Thacker & Brockmann want you to give their line an inspection before making your purchases. They make a specialty of children's shoes and can furnish you good reliable shoes at very moderate prices.
